

Get creative this Easter with the kinds of activities that Victorian children like the Müller orphans would have loved!

- 1. We love these Easter craft ideas for children and adults of all ages:

<https://www.britmums.com/easter-craft-ideas-for-kids-of-all-ages/>

- 2. Check out this Victorian Easter Diary which explains how Victorian children celebrated Easter. It also includes some beautiful examples of Victorian Easter cards for you to copy - or try your own design!

<https://fiveminutehistory.com/a-victorian-easter-diary/>

- 3. Try this step-by-step guide to dyeing Easter eggs – a popular Easter pastime in Victorian times. The results are beautiful!

<https://runningwithsisters.com/lets-dye-some-easter-eggs/>

And here's the video of the same:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=tMPvp9HkYpc>